A NEW HOPE DAWNS.

James Stillman of New York has been elected a director of the Southern Pacific railroad company. Mr. Stillman is president of the New York National bank, popularly known as the "Standard Oil Bank." He is also owner of a considerable portion of the site of Brownsville and chief stockholder of the New York & Brownsville Improvement Company which owns the ferry between this city and Santa Cruz on the Mexican side of the Rio Grande, besides a whole lot of other interests in this section. He "made his start" in Brownsville, and has both kith and friends here, maintains active business relations here, and has on occasion subscribed substantially for a bonus to secure the construction of a railroad to Brownsville. All of which is merely prefatory to the expression of a hope that Mr. Stillman, the great and influential financier, now that he has acquired a voice in the policy of the Southern Pacific railroad company, which is the great developer of Southwest Texas, may be inclined, as well as able, to influence that powerful corporation to extend its line from Alice to Brownsville.

James Stillman has risen from comparatively modest beginnings to be a great man in the financial world, and Brownsville is proud that it was from here that his genius took its first flight into that greater sphere where he has steadily grown and risen until he is the peer of any of the great financiers who rule in the world of finance today. It would be prouder still, if he should insure the future prosperity of the town by causing the construction of the long hoped for railroad to connect it with the outer world.

If European nations will fight each other the United States cannot help it, but she can sell the horses that European armies need for their campaigns.

ALTOELT has "deserted" the democratic party, and is supporting the republican ticket in the Chicago municipal fight. It's good riddance of bad rubbish.

CLAIMS for damages incurred in the Cuban insurrection against Spain and also in the Spanish war by American citizens in Cuba, against the United States government, make a grand total of $30,000,000. This is another little expense item incurred through America's assistance in establishing Cuban freedom. It has cost Uncle Sam a pretty penny to free that island, and the Cubans should surely remember the fact in considering the constitutional provisions asked for by this government.

SANITATION is the onus of prevention which is worth many pounds of cure.

Late News Items.

The end of the Filipino insurrection is thought to be at hand. Three more important surrenders are reported, including many Filipinos and arms.

Aguinaldo may be used by the U. S. government to influence the surrender of other Filipinos, or, if not willing to so act, he may be sent to the island of Guam as a military prisoner.

The Thirty-Third regiment of Infantry, U. S. V., which is composed chiefly of Texans, also the Thirty-Fourth Infantry, arrived at San Francisco Friday. No deaths or sickness occurred on the trip.

A Paris cablegram says it is not Emilio Aguinaldo, the Filipino chief, that was captured by the Americans, but Baldomero Aguinaldo, his cousin and chief of staff.
